SCOUTING

THE SHOPS with Sally

● "Wanted: Ghost-Writer, immediately, who likes to eat, knows a bargain and always says 'yes, sir' to the Editor."

● There our troubles started—although the ad wasn't our own idea to begin with. We had been sitting in the office, chewing our pencil and thinking about Daly City day at the Fair, when Alex walked in. If there is one day at the Exposition that wild horses wouldn't make us miss, it is the day that Daly City shows the world—

● Anyway, Alex is a downtown newspaper man with a cocked hat and a big pipe, and he comes out here to buy the special Italian bread and cake for which the Geneva Bakery is so justly famous. And he also stops by to give away free advice.

● "Poor little Sally," he jeered when he saw us. "Still working! She doesn't know yet that every good columnist has someone else ghost-write his stuff."

● While our subconscious mind may have toyed with the thought, our attention strayed irrelevantly to Alex's vest, which was in a bad way. Now that Beeson Cleaners have moved to their nice new quarters, we thought, and can do a job so beautifully, so inexpensively and so quickly, why doesn't Alex—

● And all the time he was advising us to wake up and be smart, and then we began wondering whether beefsteak from the Vista Grande meat market would help Alex's black eye if we gave him one. It's delicious steak and good for almost anything else—

● Of course in the end we gratefully thanked Alex and told him to put the fatal ad into the paper. In fact we even invited him to join us for dinner some night at the Hilltop Lodge, an invitation which he accepted with alacrity, since he had been there before.

● But now in public print we bitterly say to you, Alex, that the result of that ad was Egbert. And not even Sonja Henie, skating like a fairy over the glittering ice at the Daly City theatre this week,

Beeson Cleaners Have New Quarters

Beeson Cleaners, Daly City's first dyeing and cleaning establishment, moved into new quarters this week. This is the third time over a period of nineteen years that increasing business has forced Beesons to move into larger quarters.

Coming off the Orpheum and Pantages circuits in 1920 where they had played in hit comedy productions, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beeson opened their first cleaning establishment at 6270 Mission street. Three years ago they moved to 6207 Mission, and this week sees them make another bid for additional business at a new and larger place of business, 6202 Mission street.

Tom, as everyone knows Beeson, is a member of the V. F. W., American Legion, and Eagles Lodge.

Kentucky Colonel

A Kentucky colonel is appointed by the governor of the state and one does not have to make application. There are no general qualifications for the office. It is purely honorary.

Fair To Celebrate San Francisco Day

San Francisco day at the Exposition has been set for Saturday, September 30, with a rousing program that will run throughout the day and most of the night, taking in virtually the entire Island.

Important features will be a huge treasure hunt, during which thousands of prizes will be given to Exposition visitors, athletic events, a Harbor Day program with races and stunts in the Port of the Trade Winds, a two-mile parade of bands and uniformed units, a reception for Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, entertainment programs throughout the day, drill contests, night fireworks, and a grand ball.

On the same date the State Federation of Labor will stage its celebration, and the Southern Council of Civic Clubs of San Francisco will bring some 300 underprivileged children to the Exposition for a day of free entertainment.

George Olsen and his orchestra and variety show will present free outdoor shows in Temple

La Cerna Beauty Salon Holds Big Opening Today

From a home shop business to one of the most modern beauty salons in the Bay area, is the success story of Theresa La Cerna, proprietor of the La Cerna Beauty Salon opening today (Friday).

Mrs. La Cerna conducted her business at her Los Banos avenue home, until the volume of business demanded larger quarters.

Taking advantage of the shop space available in the remodeled former postoffice building, she opens today a large, modern beauty salon featuring the latest in beauty culture equipment.

Mrs. La Cerna has had wide experience in beauty culture and was recently with the Vanity Box salon in San Francisco. She has resided in Daly City for the past 10 years.

Complimentary facials will be given opening day customers.

Compound Saturday and Sunday, and will provide music for the free nightly dances in Treasure Island Music Hall. The same two days will be Family days on which children under 12 will be admitted for 10 cents, those from 12 to 18 for 25 cents.

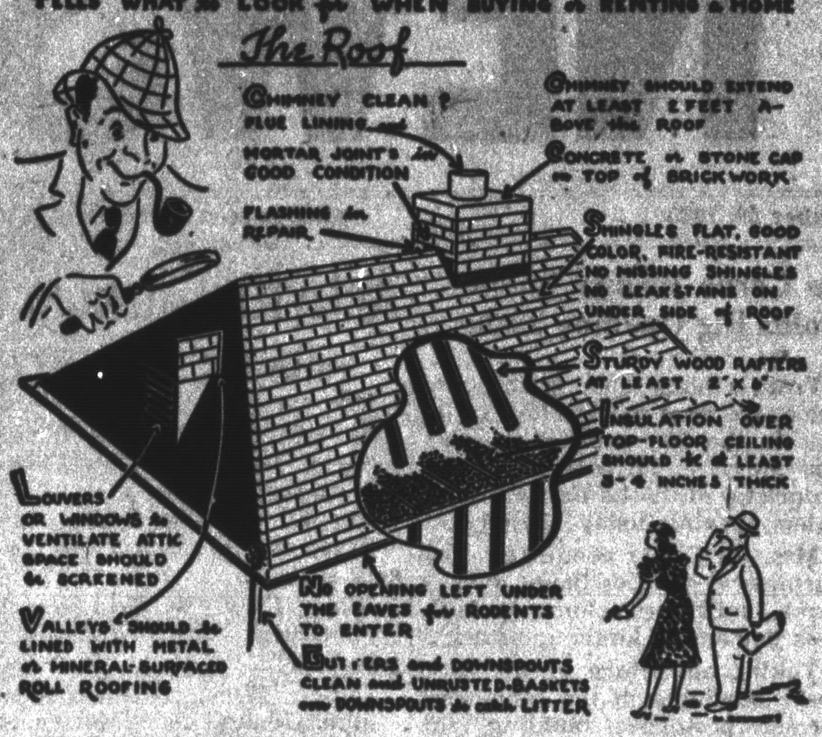
Sherlock "Homes" . . . .

TELLS WHAT to LOOK for WHEN BUYING or RENTING a HOME



The Roof
CHIMNEY CLEAN? FLUE LINING and MORTAR JOINTS in GOOD CONDITION
CHIMNEY SHOULD EXTEND AT LEAST 2 FEET ABOVE the ROOF
CONCRETE or STONE CAP on TOP of BRICK WORK
FLASHING and REPAIR
SHINGLES FLAT, GOOD COLOR, FIRE-RESISTANT NO MISSING SHINGLES NO LEAK STAINS ON UNDER SIDE of ROOF
STURDY WOOD RAFTERS AT LEAST 2" X 6"
INSULATION OVER TOP-FLOOR CEILING SHOULD be AT LEAST 3" to 4 INCHES THICK
LOUVERS OR WINDOWS to VENTILATE ATTIC SPACE SHOULD be SCREENED
VALLEYS SHOULD be LINED WITH METAL or MINERAL-SURFACED ROLL ROOFING
NO OPENING LEFT UNDER THE EAVES for RODENTS TO ENTER
GUTTERS and DOWNSPOUTS CLEAN and UNRUSTED-BASKETS over DOWNSPOUTS to catch LITTER

Sherlock "Homes" comes to the rescue of those many people who want a guide to home buying. Take the roof first, he says, and proceeds to enumerate its various critical points. Make certain, he cautions, that it is roofed with fire-resistant shingles. Roof sparks are our third largest cause of house fires. That is why he's roofed our ideal house with asphalt shingles.

Watch out for flashing — flashing is the metal shield installed wherever one roof surface meets another, as around the chimney where it meets the shingles. This flashing is there to keep out rain and melting snow — naturally, then, it must be perfect.

Pare an eye for insulation if you want to be comfortable this summer — or next winter. Look between the top floor joists for at least three to four inches of fireproof insulation, such as mineral wool.

And first to last, watch out for workmanship — a roof can ask no mercy from the elements. It must be staunchly built, strong and well-braced if it is to last.

Ship Contracts To Aid Business

Manager Carl E. Newman of Bank of America here, announces that increased activity in many lines of business in California and the far west are noted in the bank's review for August, just released. Gains were noted in carloadings, power production, home building, retail trade, shipbuilding and tourist travel.

Revival of the long dormant shipbuilding industry on the Pacific coast is pointed out by Bank of America as of major significance to western business. It is noted that since the U. S. Maritime Commission inaugurated its program for the construction of 500 merchant ships over a ten-year period, contracts for a total of 103 ships have been let and of these the West ccast has been awarded contracts for twenty-three vessels with an estimated value of fifty million dollars.

It is expected that the additional purchasing power created by the employment of thousands of workers will stimulate the whole range of retail and wholesale trade.

New Troupe Opens At Capitol Follies

The Capitol Follies, at Ellis near Market, long known as the home of road show burlesque stage productions, will re-open Friday, September 29, under complete new sponsorship, it is announced by Eddie Skolak, manager of the theatre. With its re-opening the theatre will be completely renovated and re-furnished.

A brand new burlesque troupe of outstanding stage stars, each a lively new personality, will be offered. First rehearsals of the company will start this week.

"Second Fiddle" Also Stars Tyrone Power

Sonja Henie is full of surprises these days, thanks to her co-starring role with Tyrone Power in Irving Berlin's "Second Fiddle." This Twentieth Century-Fox picture, now at the Daly City theatre, offers one of the greatest combinations of talent ever gathered for a single show, featuring Rudy Vallee and Edna May Oliver, including new-star Mary Healy, Lyle Talbot and Alan Dinehart, and introducing six new Berlin song hits.

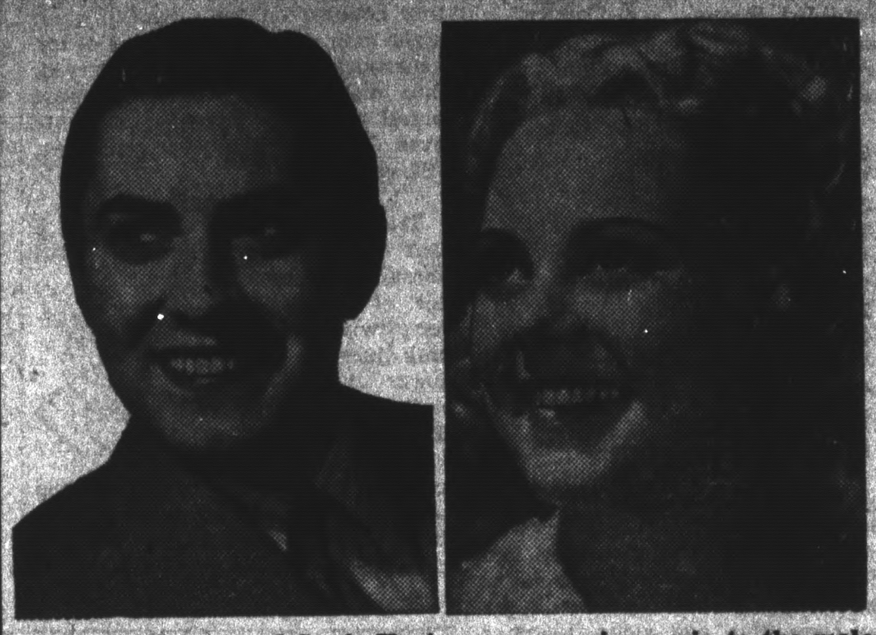
In the film Sonja performs on the ice with her first screen skating partner, presents spectacular tropical dances — the rhumba and tango — on the ice, and introduces, with Rudy Vallee, the new ballroom dance sensation, the "Back to Back."

She also romances with Tyrone Power—a couple fans have demanded to see again ever since their triumph in "Thin Ice."

In addition Sonja hangs up her skating shoes and dons a streamlined swim suit for a sequence in the film, proving herself as much at home gracing the border of a pool, or in disporting in the water, as she is on the ice.

The ice queen has a real dramatic role, allowing her to demonstrate a genuine acting talent that production chief Darryl F. Zanuck has accorded some careful grooming. The screen play by Harry Tugend, based on a story by George Bradshaw, is a realistic tale of what happens to the girl selected by Hollywood after a long, almost interminable, search to fill the role of the heroine of a great best-selling novel.

Companion feature on the new bill is "Code of the Secret Service," starring Ronald Reagan.



Tyrone Power and Sonja Henie are romancing again to the melodies of six new song hits in Irving Berlin's "Second Fiddle," now playing at the Daly City theatre.

"Ramona" To Be Shown Saturday at Exposition

In response to numerous requests the Richmond Traveling Players under supervision of Miss Josephine Randall, superintendent, and the San Francisco City Recreation Commission will again present "Ramona," adapted from the novel of Helen Hunt Jackson and written and directed by Frederick Wahl.

It will be given in the Little Theatre of the Recreation building on Treasure Island at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, San Francisco day, September 30. Admission is free.

Joint Fire Drill By Fire Companies

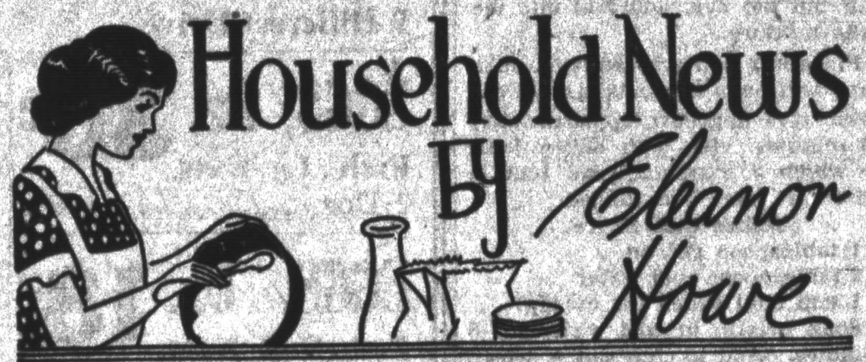
Companies Number 1, 4 and 5 participated in a joint drill called last Thursday evening by Chief A. P. Chesney and Assistant Chief A. J. Bodien.

Working with the fire department instructors, Battalion Chief Kennedy conducted the drill, which consisted of fire-extinguishing, rescue work and first aid. The drill also tested how quickly the firemen could pick up hose and tools to respond to another fire.

Chiefs Chesney and Bodien were unable to be present since, in conjunction with County Fire Warden Bert Werder, they were helping to organize a volunteer fire department in Sharps Park Thursday.

The report of the drill indicates that Daly City's fire department is consistently improving and that the city is daily reaping the benefit of better service.

Following the drill, members of the companies went to Company Number 4's headquarters for refreshments and discussion of the drill.

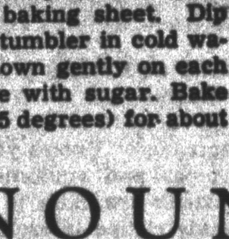


MANY VARIETIES OF COOKIES
(See Recipes Below)

Cookies in the Cupboard

What cookies do folks like best to eat?
A cookie that's rich, and spicy and sweet?
A soft, thick cookie with fruity flavor,
Or the thin, crisp wafer the tea drinkers savor?
A chocolate cookie that's moist and rich,
Or a tasty tidbit with nutmeats, which
May be flavored with honey, molasses or spice?
Any kind of a cookie is pretty nice!

There are as many varieties of cookies as there are occasions for serving them. And what satisfying morsels they are for the school lunch box, for afternoon tea, or for a family meal at home. You'll find among the tested cookie recipes below one for any such occasion ranging from dainty tea cookies to thick, soft, molasses cookies for an after-school or bedtime snack. They're all grand recipes for the Girl Scout cookie sale you may be planning, or for the next meeting of the church guild.



Soft Molasses Cookies.
(Makes about 7 dozen cookies.)

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup New Orleans molasses
2 teaspoons soda
1 cup buttermilk
6 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger

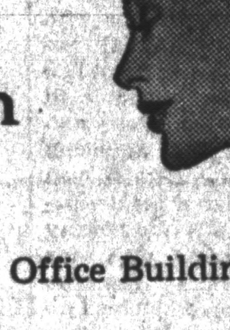
Cream shortening, and add sugar gradually. Beat in the eggs and molasses. Dissolve the soda in the buttermilk. Sift flour, baking powder and spices together and add to the first mixture alternately with the buttermilk. Drop from teaspoon onto a greased baking sheet. Dip the bottom of a tumbler in cold water, and press down gently on each cookie. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 6 minutes.

Even on Sunday evenings hungry families demand good food. It's simple enough to provide a meal that is temptingly different with suggestions such as those Eleanor Howe will give you in her column next week. Be sure to look for her article "Sunday Night Suppers"!

Butterscotch Brownies.
(Makes 2 dozen small cookies.)

4 tablespoons butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg (slightly beaten)
¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup nut meats (cut fine)

Melt the butter in a small saucepan. Add sugar slowly, and cook for 2 minutes. Remove from flame, and add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Pour into shallow greased pan and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) for about 18 minutes. Cut in squares.



Chocolate Applesauce Cookies.
(Makes 3 dozen cookies.)

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon ginger
4 teaspoons cocoa

TASTY SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPERS
(See Recipes Below)

Sunday Night Suppers

Even though you expect everyone to have had a noon meal with staying power on Sundays, people do like to eat when Sunday evening rolls 'round! To be sure, they like food that's somewhat lighter, and food that's out of the ordinary. So it's a grand time to leave the beaten path and serve something a little different.

If you serve left-overs, be sure to serve them in a new way or with an unusual accompaniment like the jellied chili sauce I've suggested in menu No. III. If you plan a meal especially for Sunday night, plan one which can be served "help-yourself" style and arrange foods, dishes and silver on the table so that guests may serve themselves. Appetites will be quickened by the eye-appealing arrangement of the table, and the air of informality makes Sunday night supper a sociable affair.

These menus are suited, too, to serving larger numbers — lodge groups, church organizations or clubs. Recipes for the main dish and salad in every menu are easily increased. Unless you have special recipes and equipment, cakes and pastries are likely to be better if the single recipe is used.

Sunday Night Supper Menus

Clam Chowder
Wafers Assorted Relishes
Lettuce and Tomatoes with Roquefort Cheese Dressing

Tuna Casserole
Orange-Cherry Salad
Hot Rolls

Thin Slices of Cold Roast Beef
Jellied Chili Sauce

Lettuce and Tomatoes With Roquefort Cheese Dressing.
(Serves 6)

1 head lettuce
2 tomatoes
¼ pound Roquefort cheese (crumbled)
French dressing

Remove coarse outer leaves from head of lettuce. Cut into wedges. Peel tomatoes, remove stem end, and cut into eighths. Place in salad bowl with the lettuce. Add crumbled Roquefort cheese and French dressing. Toss lightly until well mixed.

Cocoa Marshmallow Cake.

2 tablespoons cocoa
⅓ cup sweet milk
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs (separated)
⅓ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sour milk

Place cocoa, sweet milk, 1 cup brown sugar, and 1 egg yolk (beaten) in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water, until mixture is well blended. Cool. Cream butter, and add remaining cup of brown sugar while beating constantly. Add the two remaining egg yolks, together with the vanilla extract and mix thoroughly. Then mix and sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with the sour milk. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry, and fold into the cake mixture.

Place in 2 well greased layer cake pans and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) approximately 30 minutes. Ice with boiled icing to which 8 marshmallows (cut in quarters) have been added.

Jellied Chili Sauce.

1 tablespoon gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup chili sauce (or catsup)

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Add to chili sauce, which has been heated to the boiling point, and stir until dissolved. Pour into tiny paper cups, individual molds, or small pan from which the chili sauce may be sliced or cut in attractive shapes when firm. Chill thoroughly before serving.

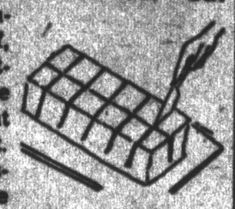
Tuna Casserole.

1 7-ounce can tuna
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cooked peas
1 can button mushrooms
2 cups cooked noodles (medium width)
Salt, pepper and butter
1 cup milk

Butter individual baking dishes. Sprinkle tuna with lemon juice. (This brings out the tuna flavor). Arrange alternate layers of tuna, peas, mushrooms and noodles, putting noodles on top. Season each layer with salt and pepper. Dot top generously with butter. Pour milk into dish and top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. (Serves 4-6.)

Toasted Loaf.

Trim top and side crusts from a loaf of unsliced white bread. Cut through the center of the loaf, lengthwise, cutting just to the lower crust, but not through it. Then cut crosswise, spacing the cuts about 2 inches apart. Brush top and sides generously with melted butter. Toast in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) until the loaf is golden brown. Serve hot.



There are so many points to be considered in planning meals. One which is all too likely to be overlooked is this—that the dessert is more than something to satisfy the family's "sweet tooth"; it really plays an important part in the menu.

Next week in this column Eleanor Howe will tell you why—and will give you, too—some of her favorite recipes for "Desserts That Are Different."

Capitol Flag

The United States Capitol flag flies 24 hours a day, rain or shine. The wind shreds it to ribbons and often plaits the ribbons; the sun and rain fade its colors. As a result, its life is only about six weeks. The yearly banner budget of the United States is about $50,000.

Scouting the Shops

could make us forget that indignity—

● Egbert was his real name. He was tall and gangly and gargled when he talked. So somewhat doubtfully we passed upon him as a ghost; and since he hadn't had a haircut in months, we also concluded he must be a writer.

● Egbert, however, insisted quietly but firmly, that he could not be a ghost-writer without a fountain pen. After explaining that if anyone asked, he was Sally's brother, we ventured to introduce him to Mr. Edwards, explaining that Edwards drug store is first and primarily a pharmacy, carrying only the finest drugs available. Then we bought him a fountain pen there for 25c.

● Egbert looked properly impressed, but murmured that he was thirsty, so we stopped at the Mission Creamery for some ice-cold orangeade. He liked it so well, that he also had a chocolate milk and a glass of buttermilk before we left.

● At Milo's, we explained how glad all the wives in town would be to learn of the big Stokely sale, so that they could stock up on canned goods at a considerable saving. Egbert nodded, nibbling at a bunch of bananas for which we were being charged, and remarked how well he liked fried chicken, and he had heard that Milo's was excellent. We swallowed our come-back, bought a chicken and also a leg of lamb at the unheard-of price of 14c a pound.

● As we walked along we told him of other grocery bargains—how at Farmer's Meat company you could find sweet, lean bacon, sliced to perfection; how the clerks there were always so nice to help customers in every way possible; and how Farmers' delicatessen department carried almost everything anyone could want.

● Our ghost-writer agreed yes, he liked bacon too, but remarked hopefully that right now he felt in the mood for ice-cream. So we stocked up on ice-cream at Westlake Market, had some ice-cold pop and fresh fruit.

● At Castle Garden Grocery, Egbert said that a whole pound of potato chips for only 30c was too good a bargain to pass up. The clerk collected from us while Egbert fell upon the potato chips. They looked like good potato chips, too—

● While Mr. Robertson, at Robertson's Egg Store, was telling us that eggs were 5c a dozen cheaper now than at this time last year, and that he got them fresh from the farm daily, Egbert strolled around the store, suddenly tripped, knocked over a stack of cans and smashed 37 eggs.

● Not trusting ourselves to speak, we finished the mopping and went directly to the new La Cerna Beauty Salon for a facial because by this time we were feeling old and haggard. Besides the facials are free there today.

● When we met Egbert at the Cut Rate Market, he had collected 15 cans of pork and beans. "Look at the price!" he gloated. "And I found a wonderful bargain in apples and potatoes—and they have the best ready-made salad—the man said you could pay the bill anytime," he concluded tactfully.

● Weighing the evils of a ghost writer versus a ghost bank account, we proceeded to Lucca Ravioli company alone to build up our shattered morale by discovering the lovely bargains there this week. Hubbard squash are 2c a pound; fresh broccoli 3 lbs. for 10c, with excellent specials in groceries, liquors, and meats. Lucca's lamb stew, especially, with an onion and a carrot, will melt in your mouth.

● When we returned to the top of the hill, we found Egbert listening entranced to a Zenith radio at Byrne's. Ghost-writers' inspirations, he explained, depended upon whether or not they could listen to the strains of sweet music as they wooed the Muse—

● The upshot of it was that Sally (in a desperate frame of mind), Egbert and the radio returned to the office, where at long last Scouting the Shops could perhaps be ghost-written. But the Editor saw Egbert first.

● "I suppose," said the Editor, a glazed look coming into his eye as he reached for the big ruler, "that you're another one of Sally's relatives—"

● "Oh yes," Egbert assured him, "You see my mother's cousin married—"

● And that is the reason that Scouting the Shops is still being written by Sally in person.

Feed Crops

Agriculture officials estimate that in 1915 it required 90,000,000 acres of farm crops to feed horses and mules in the United States, but in 1936 only 54,000,000 acres were required. Pasture requirements dropped from 90,000,000 acres to 55,000,000.

Young Designer Makes Raincoats Important News

The lowly raincoat is shedding its chrysalis to become the butterfly of fall fashions.

Introducing a radical departure in what has heretofore been an eminently practical but wholly unromantic bit of wearing apparel, Miss Helen Wright, of Akron, Ohio, well known young American designer, is introducing a new and interesting type of dressmaker raincoat.

Designed to flatter rather than destroy the lines of figure, the raincoats are of silk which has been waterproofed with a material known as koroseal, which does not crack or become brittle with age.

One of the most figure flattering of Miss Wright's designs is a princess style coat, buttoned from throat to within a few inches of the hem, with an underflap to protect the skirt where the buttons cease. Another which would be charming for a young girl has a rather full skirt, with a waistline molded by shirring and very full sleeves which button closely around the wrist.

A third style has bindings and sash of a contrasting color, this one being gaily smart when developed in blue with red bindings and sash. Miss Wright has also designed a group of smart little turbans to accompany the coats and to replace the ordinary casual type of rain hat.

Venice Taxis

There are many miles of paths on which to walk in Venice, but no visitor need worry about being lost. After rambling between old palaces for miles he may not know where he is, but he can always call a gondola on the canal and be back in his hotel in a few minutes.

Plate Glass Mirror Redeems a Dark Corner

THE magic that can be wrought by a wisely placed mirror of plate glass is interestingly illustrated in these two before and after pictures, taken in the dining room of a modest five room house. A total of $8.55, of which $6.00 was spent on a plate glass mirror, redeemed two ugly corners which spoiled an otherwise attractive room. A hanging shelf, for which the homemaker paid $1.25, was hung above a chest just opposite the one pictured to form, with its bright pottery and brass ornaments, a charming reflection in the mirror. The green paint was removed from the chest for $.40, the original wood finished by rubbing with oil and $.90 more provided new handles of brass.

1½ cups applesauce (unsweetened)

Cream shortening, add sugar and beat well. Sift together the flour, soda, salt, spices, and cocoa and add alternately with the applesauce. Beat thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for approximately 15 minutes.

Orange Ice Box Cookies.
(Makes 5 dozen cookies.)

1 cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 tablespoon orange rind (grated)
2¾ cups general purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
½ cup pecan nut meats (broken)

Cream shortening and add sugars slowly, while beating constantly. Add egg (well beaten), orange juice and orange rind. Mix and sift flour, salt, and soda together and add to the creamed mixture, together with the broken nut meats. Form in rolls in wax paper and chill overnight in refrigerator. Slice thin, place on greased baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 12-15 minutes.

Grandmother's Sugar Cookies.
(Makes 5 dozen cookies.)

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, and 1 egg yolk
½ cup sour cream
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon lemon extract
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon sat
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Cream shortening, and add sugar gradually. Add the egg and beat until fluffy. Combine sour cream with flavoring extracts, and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the sifted dry ingredients. Chill for about ½ hour. Roll out and cut. Place on greased cookie sheet. Brush tops of cookies with unbeaten egg white and sprinkle generously with sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425 degrees) for about 8 minutes.

Black Bass Biting At Near-by Merced

The black bass are biting again at near-by Lake Merced. According to local sportsmen, the bronze-backs are now on their greatest rampage since the opening day on July 1, when nearly every angler venturing out on the lake came back with his limit of four.

Despite the fact that the bronze-backs have had nearly three months to gain a speaking acquaintance with just about every type of fly and hardware in existence, they're still suckers for flies and plugs.

The anglers who have been embarking in the late afternoon, from 4:30 p. m. on, seldom fail to come in without a limit. And for the last week, since the start of the heat wave, local fishermen have depleted the bass population considerably.

The most successful fly has proved to be the white miller, while the feathered minnow is still a killer and the river runt takes its share.

Shore fishing continues to offer the best prospects. Bass up to four and sometimes five pounds have been picked up by sportsmen trying the early morning fishing, but the evening angling has proven far more successful.

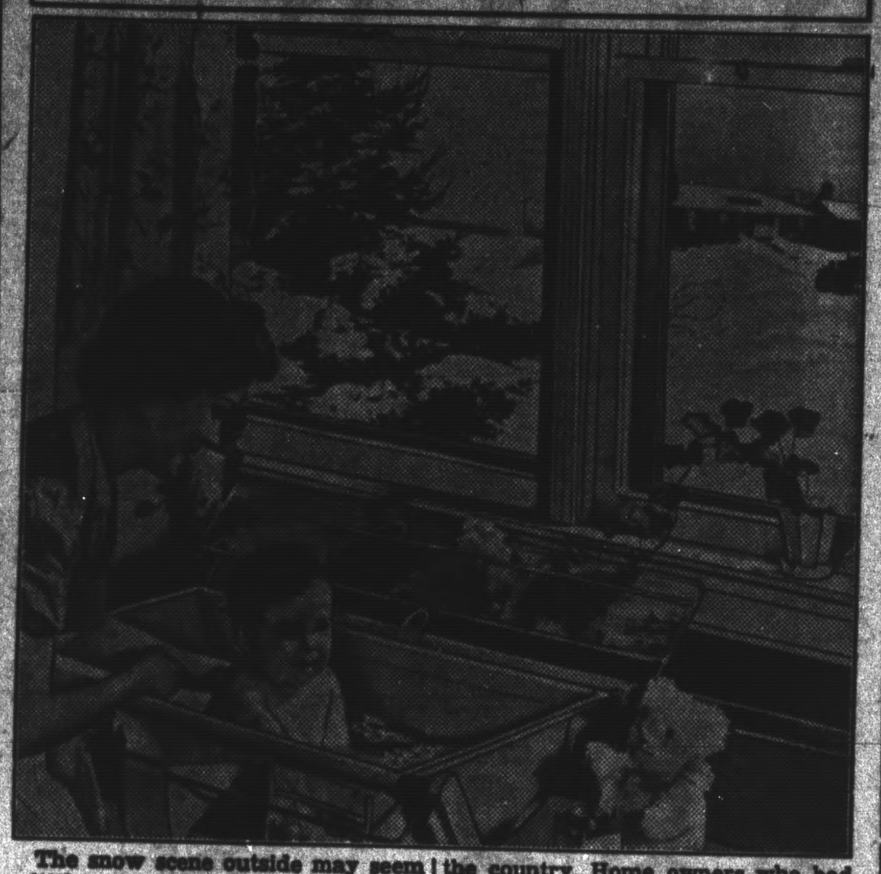
The judge of the roller canary section of a Newmarket, New Zealand, cage bird society exhibition, is a blind man. A blind man, with his compensating acute sense of hearing, is particularly qualified to judge roller canaries, as these birds are judged solely by their singing.

Oats Production

Experimental plots show that with improved methods of soil preparation and seeding oats will produce as high as 42 bushels an acre in South Carolina in contrast with the average state yield of 22 bushels an acre.

Window Conditioning Economical Insulation



The snow scene outside may seem a little premature but with the calendar speeding toward winter, it isn't a bit too early to think about a safeguard against icy blasts that shortly will be howling around your windows.

Not only that but the mother who has taken winter by the forelock and installed storm sash is not afraid to bathe her baby in front of a window where sunlight streams in but drafts do not.

Savings that can be effected by the installation of double glazing were interestingly illustrated recently in a survey which covered all sections of the country. Home owners who had installed double sashes last year reported that fuel bills dropped from 20 to 40 per cent. The owner of a five room home in Michigan reported that storm sash for his windows cost $32 and that the first winter he saved $39 on fuel bills.

In addition to fuel saving, home owners who have had window conditioning for a season or more report that the elimination of drafts from the windows reduce colds among the youngsters in the family and that the double windows prevent condensation on the glass and eliminate soot seepage and water streaked walls.

Equalization Club Plans Entertainment

Launching its first function of the Fall season, the Equalization Social Club will hold a dansant and entertainment Saturday night, September 30, at the Hotel Whitcomb roof garden.

Members of the club, employees of the State Board of Equalization in San Francisco and San Mateo counties, are making elaborate preparations for the affair, which is open to the public by ticket.

Arrangements for attending may be made through any State Board of Equalization employee, or by contacting C. Frank Pratt at the San Francisco office.

Old Age Security Changes Announced

Several important changes in the Old Age Security law go into effect Sunday, October 1, according to Dr. Charles C. Gans.

Beginning then, the county must secure an agreement signed by the applicant and spouse which provides that if the applicant owns any real property or acquires any in the future, same will not be transferred or encumbered without the consent of the board of supervisors.

It has also been provided that upon the death of a person receiving the Old Age Security, the county shall have a claim against any estate left by that person for all aid granted. This claim has precedence before that of any heir except surviving spouse.
